California Proposition 65 Information

Attention California Consumers:

WARNING: This product can expose you to chemicals including Chromium, which is known to the State of California to cause cancer and birth defects or other reproductive harm. For more information go to www.P65Warnings.ca.gov.

California Proposition 65 requires that California consumers be informed if a consumer product contains any chemicals on the Prop 65 list. There are currently more than 900 chemicals on the list.

It would be extremely complex to determine which products may ultimately be sold or brought into the State of California. Therefore, to ensure compliance with Prop 65, appropriate warning labels will be provided with all products.

For more information, please refer to the website www.P65Warnings.ca.gov
